PRIZE WINNER — This Victorian carolling scene in the window of Castle in Carmel was awarded first prize in the Carmel Business Association window display contest. Owners of the gift shop, Mrs. Georgiana Radke and Mrs. Joan Glenn, received a three year membership in the CBA for the animated display. Castle in Carmel, which specializes in rare gifts, antiques and fine candy, is located on Dolores between Ocean and 7th. More pictures of the Carmel Business Association contest winners on page 14, story and picture on page 2.

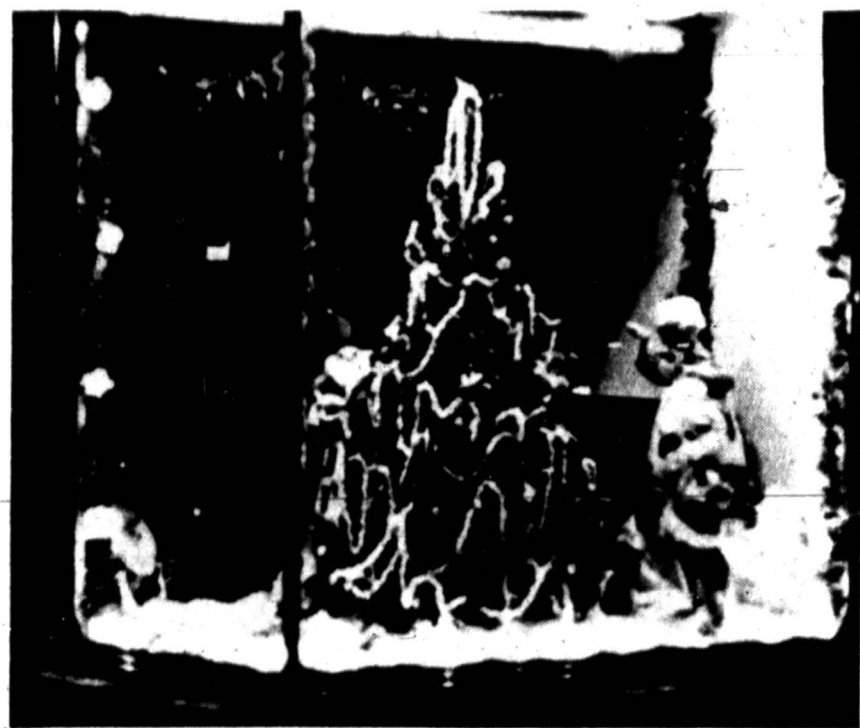

BUSY, BUSY, BUSY — The Carmel Post Office is a warm, cheerful and mighty busy place as the Christmas Season hits its peak. Having a normal work load far greater than cities with a comparable population, the increase in holiday mail coming and going makes the Carmel Post Office resemble a movie mob scene, particularly during the noon hour and late afternoon. But Carmel's Post Office is still traditionally a place to exchange a few words with a friend, catch up on the latest gossip and find out what's happening in the Village.

CHRISTMAS CAPERS, YOUTH CENTER STYLE — Santa's reindeers, either in a group or singly, cannot match these Youth Center members for beauty, grace and Christmas spirit. They'll be portraying Santa's eight reindeer, plus Rudolph, the Red-nosed one, at the 19th annual Christ-

OLD FASHIONED TREE—This traditional Christmas tree is unique because of ornaments, tenderly created of popcorn and fresh cranberries, of Mr. and Mrs. Leo Tanous of the Ocean Avenue Realty Company. The display won $25 in the CBA window contest.

CBA Awards Window Display Prizes

Largess in the form of a three-year membership in the Carmel Business Association and several cash prizes were awarded by the CBA Sunday afternoon to Carmel merchants who had entered the annual Christmas window decoration contest.

First prize went to Castle in Carmel gift shop, whose display of animated characters singing carols in a Victorian setting seemed to capture the Christmas spirit.

Second prize was won by the Knapp Mill and Cabinet Holy scene using handmade figures, and third prize was awarded to Tersol's, whose painted windows were done by Teresa Tersol.

The above awards were for $25 each.

Other $25 awards went to Ocean Avenue Realty for its handmade ornaments of popcorn strings and fresh cranberries, Hansel and Gretel's Christmas tree, the private collection of Christmas heirlooms displayed by Heritage Antiques and the window decorations of Spencer's House of Cards.

Special honorable mention was awarded N.B. Florists for the most beautiful display, the I. Magnin and Company for the most elegant, and to the Oriental Shop for the most individuality.

Planners Approve Edgemere Expansion

by Gunnar Norberg

Last month the City Planning Commission took the first step to make a gift of great worth to all the people of Carmel—and it took the step unanimously.

Yesterday it took away the last chance for that gift to come to Carmel, though it did so on a narrowly drawn 4-3 vote.

But this taking away of last month's hopefully and unanimously voted Planning Commission gift to Carmel was all but forced two weeks ago when the City Council ordered the Planning Commission to reconsider last month's action in denying a request from Edgemere Cottages, a legalized residential-area motel, to expand two of its units while rebuilding them.

After having had their unanimously denied Edgemere expansion request reversed by the City Council, Planning Commissioners yesterday seemed disheartened, and their disheartenment was compounded when City Attorney William Burleigh ruled that all that was left for them to consider was whether or not the specific Edgemere building plans might lead to a structure which would conform to the residential area (San Antonio near Santa Lucia) where it would be located.

With an important—and possibly precedent-making—issue turned into a hair-splitting one, the original forthright denial of the Edgemere expansion request by the Planning Commission was turned yesterday into a 4-to-3 approval. First, a motion to deny the Edgemere request failed when only Commissioners Ted Fehring, Dorothy von Meier and Edward Neroda voted for it.

Then, a new one to approve was made by Commissioner Dorothea Roberts and seconded by Commissioner Dahlstrand, who were joined by Commissioner Charles McEwen and Commission COORDINATORS—Two of the perennial figures who contribute to the success of the annual Carmel City Christmas tree lighting ceremony confer with this year's Youth Center master of ceremonies, Jimmie De Amaral, center. At left is Fritz Haas, of Fritz' TV-Radio Repair, who supplies the sound systems, and Bob Forbes, who coordinates the lighting, carolling and Carmel Business Association window contest awards. A few minutes later, Mayor Barney Laiolo flipped the switch, the lights went on, CBA began announcing prize winners and the carollers broke into song.

'39 Craftsmen' Financial Success, Becomes 'First Annual' Event

This year's "39 Craftsmen Bring Christmas" just concluded is sure to be the first annual event of this type after being greeted by success.

The sponsor, The Fine Arts and Craft Festival, was happy with its financial success and saw the craftsmen and participants.

More than 1,000 people attended the first night opening.

As a result of this successful venture, the Fine Arts and Crafts Festival will continue to hold its festival in the spring or summer of next year. The festival will be a competitive showing of all the arts and crafts as well as artists-in-action.

The event was well represented by both Carmel citizens and other peninsula people. Among those attending the "39 Craftsmen Bring Christmas" were: Barney Laiolo, mayor of Carmel, Mrs. Kay Scott, secretary of Carmel Business Association, Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Bayless, Mr. and Mrs. Cole Weston, Mr. and Mrs. Will Shaw and Mrs. Rody Holt.

Mr. and Mrs. Bud Allen, Mark Raggett, Col. and Mrs. Allen Griffin, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Stanton and their guest, from the California Arts Commission, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Manolis.

Mr. and Mrs. John Adams, Bill Burleigh, Carmel City Attorney, Mr. and Mrs. George Clemens, Jim Glaser, Mr. and Mrs. Eldon Dedini, Mr. and Mrs. Gus Arriola and Mr. and Mrs. Frank O'Neal.

The Friday night event was also broadcasted by Carmel's local radio station, KRML by its owner Sam Salerno and announcer Johnny Adams.

Winners of the door prizes were:

Weekend Trip to Lake Tahoe for two via Skymark Airlines, Tahoe Paradise Motel — Judith Kupfer, Monterey.

14K Ring W/Blue Baroque Pearl donated by Alice Shannon — Malcolm Burtwell, Carmel.

Walnut Valet donated by Richard Harris and won by K. G. Graver, Carmel.

Holiday Inn dinner for four — Holiday Inn, Carmel Valley, won by Elizabeth Baker, Carmel.

Ceramic Bowl, by Mark Thomas, Carmel Valley, Enamel Painting — Avis Ballard by Herbert Witt, Belvedere, Calif.

Club XIX Dinner for two and Golfing for two W/Electric Cart—Del Monte Lodge, by Richard Murray, Carmel, Pajamas by Maloa — J. L. Rankin, Carmel. Leather Handbag by Fred Host, Gay Hickey, Carmel.

Colorful Christmas Season Wedding

Picture a Christmas season bride dressed in white velvet trimmed in white mink, followed by attendants in green satin carrying white fur muffs decorated with English holly, a little flower girl in scarlet velvet and two little ringbearers.

The wedding was that of Marsha Ann Hunter, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ronald G. Hunter of Carmel and San Jose, who married Ronald Paul Brooks of San Jose.

Carrillon bells played before and after the early afternoon ceremony held Dec. 14 at the First Methodist Church of Pacific Grove which was decorated with spider mums and holly.

A reception at Estrada Adobe followed for their many friends and relatives.

Special guests were Mr. and Mrs. Glen Campbell of Los Gatos, lifetime friends of the bride's family, on whose estate, Marcy and Ron will make their home. They will live in the original Victorian house, built in 1890, for the late Dr. G. Mace of San Francisco. Marcy has a special interest in old structures and antiques.

Following their honeymoon in Carmel and Yosemite, the couple will be at home in Los Gatos.

Same Birthday

There is special cause for rejoicing at the Russell B. Bomberger home in Pebble Beach at the coming of Jane Carmel on Dec. 8. On the same day, James Stewart III arrived for Mr. and Mrs. James S. Townsend in Carmel, and Miguel Florencia, Jr. for and Mrs. Miguel F. Lopez of Big Sur.

Wedding Bells

Ocean Backdrop for Outdoor Wedding

An unusual wedding ceremony, held on the rocky Big Sur coast at Soberanes Point, united Bernice Mello and Gary Courtwright, both of Palo Colorado Canyon recently.

On a gorgeous day, friends and wedding guests followed bagpiper Dave Bennett of Kidd to the promontory where they exchanged flowers, and a poem for the couple composed by Steve Taugher of Palo Colorado was read.

The Rev. Sidney Peterman of the Unitarian Church of the Monterey Peninsula officiated.

Bernice was dressed in a wine velvet dress trimmed with old lace, a garland of flowers and ferns in her hair. She was attended by Dewie Dutton of Bixby Canyon.

Others present were Bud Lindsey who runs the General Store in Carmel and his mother, John Keefauver the writer, Charley Shot of Pacific Grove and Mike Sears of Belmont.

Also present at the meaningful ceremony were their goat and an Afghan dog of whom they are very fond.

Following the wedding everyone gathered at the upper Palo Colorado home of the bridegroom who is a metal sculptor.

Gary is the son of Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Courtwright of San Leandro.

Ellen Scott Fielding Married

Mr. and Mrs. Rutledge Bray of Carmel have announced the recent marriage of her daughter, Ellen Scott Fielding, to Kevin Noble Beatty, in Detroit, Michigan.

Ellen and Kevin will live on the Monterey Peninsula and continue their studies at Monterey Peninsula College. Ellen attended Santa Catalina School and Carmel High School.

Granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Work Jr. of Pebble Beach, Ellen is the daughter of Cmdr. T. R. Fielding (USN) of Coronado and the sister of Mary Elizabeth Fielding and Thomas Kent Fielding.

Kevin is the son of Mrs. Robert Capitanich of Coronado and Cmdr. Carl Beatty (USN).

Off to Switzerland

Jeff Barter of Pebble Beach, whose book of poetry about the Carmel Bay, "Waiting for a Ripple", illustrated by Marlinde Von Ruhs, came out a few months ago, left Monday evening for Switzerland.

Metal Sculptor Morris Jones Married

Morris Jones, whose amusing metal sculptures are shown at the Work Center in the Carmel Crafts Studio and at Nepenthe was married recently to Deborah Malotte of Palm Springs.

The wedding took place at Palm Springs Community Church where the reception was later held.

They were attended by Gino and Toni Búshini, local metal artists and Tom Jones, Morris' brother, who attends Carmel High School.

Morris is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Malcolm Jones of Carmel. Mrs. Jones, the former Dorothy Woodward, and her sister Judy (Mrs. Don Dawson) who was present, attended Sunset School, participated in Forest Theater productions in the old days, and used to live in the house on Dolores which later became the Carmel Art Association.

Deborah, who is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Milo W. Malotte of Palm Springs, was dressed in white lace with a train and wore a bouffant veil. She carried a bouquet of daisies and lilies of the valley.

Also present was a younger brother, Malcolm Jr., and an uncle, landscape artist Warren Jones, of Tucson.

Morris attended Sunset School, Carmel High and Monterey Peninsula College where he majored in art.

The couple will live in Pacific Grove.

Morris has a sister Shelley (Mrs. Ralph Bogert) who with her husband in attending the University of California at Berkeley where she is an art major. Incidentally, they are both studying Serbo-Croatian in preparation for a visit to Yugoslavia.

Kent Seavey, Carmel Art Museum curator, and Mrs. W. R. Holman of Pacific Grove discuss "The California Garden" by Theodore Wores at the opening preview show.

Reunion In Hawaii For Wood Family

Col. and Mrs. O. E. Wood of Hatton Road will have a Christmas reunion in Hawaii with their son, Lt. (j.g.) O. E. Wood Jr. — Chips to his former Carmel schoolmates.

Chips' Navy ship, based in Pearl Harbor, will return there from Vietnamese waters Dec. 21. His parents will fly to Honolulu shortly afterwards to join him.

The senior Woods will return in time for Col. Wood to resume his teaching post in Watsonville Jan. 6.

Before leaving Vietnam, Chips and Carmel High School classmate Michael Cook, son of the Allman Cooks of Pebble Beach and also a Navy lieutenant, crossed paths and were able to spend a day together.

One-Man Show At Carmel Art Museum

An extensive showing of the paintings of Theodore Wores, a San Francisco artist who often painted the gardens of Monterey after the turn of the century, opened Monday evening at the Carmel Museum of Art. The showing covered his visits to Samoa, Hawaii and Japan, as well as Canada and the Southwest.

President Anthony R. White led a short meeting in which the existing directors were extended by four: Mrs. June Foster Haas, Carmel Highlands sculptress, William E. Davis of Carmel, Mrs. Paul Porter and Anthony Davi, both of Monterey.

Betty Lochrie Hoag, research director, gave a brief word of thanks to the many California museums and individuals who loaned paintings by Wores, among them, Mr. and Mrs. Anthony White of Hillsborough and Carmel.

Members and guests, were then entertained by the charming and beautifully trained Hartnell College Chamber Singers who sang songs and carols of the Renaissance period.

The girls, wearing long blue formal gowns with long white gloves, and the young men in white jackets made a pleasing picture as they grouped around their conductor, Dr. Vahe' Aslanian.

A beautifully decorated table designed by June Haas and containing cranberry punch and Christmas cookies awaited the members and guests.

THE STORY OF CHRISTMAS—is told by Mrs. Hascal Stewart to Lisa, her neighbor's little grandchild, as she looks at the creche. Mrs. Stewart, who wrote the Christmas poem below is well known among Carmel music lovers as a song writer.

Letter From Alaska

Please send us the Carmel Pine Cone. It's the only ray of sunshine we get in this God forsaken land of the frozen North.

I'm counting the days when our three years will be up and we can again live in beautiful Carmel and Lori can attend the wonderful schools. She really misses her friends at River School. I miss the children and Scouts.

News item: Linda Partidge and Nicki Stephens are members of the famed Choir or the North at the University of Alaska. Both sang at Carmel High and Nicki sang in the M.P.C. choir and studied privately with Dr. Harvey Marshall.

Linda's mother, Mrs. Elizabeth Benjamin, is the choir's pianist. She formerly taught at Robert Downs School in Pacific Grove.

Must sign off — 46 degrees below zero. Enjoy that Carmel beauty and weather.

The Christmas light turned on again.*

Community Hospital Reaches Fund Goal

Community Hospital has reached its $1,944,000 fund goal for the addition now under construction, according to Dr. A. Carol McKenney, president of the board of trustees.

"The board wishes to thank all those who pledged and gave so generously in the last two years to make Project '69 such a success. Their efforts are greatly appreciated," Dr. McKenney said.

The board president also announced that the trustees have adopted a program urging Friends of the Hospital to continue giving for new services and facilities that will be needed soon.

"We particularly thank the recent anonymous donor of $100,000 and those since Sept. 27, 1968 who matched this gift with $200,000 to put the fund drive over the top," Dr. McKenney said. Among the recent contributions was another $50,000 pledged by the Auxiliary of Community Hospital for which the board expressed special appreciation.

Project '69 is the second phase of a 25-year master plan for the hospital's growth to a 300-patient bed non-profit general hospital by 1985.

The present 100-bed facility designed by Edward Durrell Stone opened six years ago. It cost $3½ million, two thirds of which came from volunteer community giving.

The second phase now under construction is a 74-bed facility costing $1.6 million to meet the inpatient care needs until 1975. At the same time, service departments are being expanded to meet the requirements of the full 300-patient bed hospital which experts say will be necessary by 1985. Cost of expanding these departments is $2.3 million.

Under the current building program which will take two years, floor space at the hospital will be more than doubled.

General contractor for the addition is Rothschild and Raffin Construction Company of San Francisco. That firm's bid of $3,914,000 was the lowest of seven bids. The $1.95 million that has been raised through contributions is being matched by a $1.95 million federal and state grant.

Under construction are a 32-patient medical-surgical care unit, a 32-room inpatient mental health center, and a 10-patient intensive care unit, a new outpatient mental health clinic, a vastly expanded X-ray department, a completely new emergency department, expansion to a six-room operating suite, a cobalt-cancer treatment center, a new pharmacy, larger physical therapy unit, new central services unit and expanded food services center.

Community Church Christmas Plans

Christmas Eve service at Community Church of the Monterey Peninsula on Carmel Valley Road will begin at 7:30 p.m. with choir music under the direction of John Farr and Scripture reading by the Rev. Burkert Cree.

Deborah Berry, representing the youth of the church will open the service.

Christmas music will include a soprano and tenor duet by Marilyn and John Douglas; a male quartet of Herbert Blanks, bass, George Sackman, baritone, John Douglas and Victor Harber, tenors, with a trumpet solo by Greg Sprung.

Beverly Broome will offer a soprano solo.

On Sunday, Dec. 22, a Children's Vesper Service will include music by the IKTHYS Choir, readings and tableaux by each of the youth groups. The Christmas tree will be decorated with ornaments made by the children.

The IKTHYS group will stay on for a supper and later go carolling at convalescent hospitals.

At the morning service at 10:30 a.m., Rev. Jan Kucera, Czechoslovakian refugee, will speak.

All Saints' Church Holiday Services

Tuesday, Christmas Eve, at All Saints' Church, there will be a Children's Evensong and placing of Creche figures at 4:30 p.m. Boys' and Girls' choirs will sing. Youth Director, the Rev. Arthur L. Cunningham will conduct.

Confessions will be heard from 6-7 p.m.

The Midnight Eucharist will begin at 11 p.m. with special instrumental music and carols. Rev. David Hill will give the sermon and parish clergy, Frs. Cunningham, Farmer, Harris, as well as James Neill and Jack Schaper will participate.

In Big Sur, the parish Mission of Santa Lucia will hold the Christmas Eve service at 8 p.m. in the lovely chapel at River Village. Officiant will be Rev. Peter Farmer.

Wednesday, Christmas Day, at 10:30 a.m. a Festival Family Eucharist with the Children's Choirs will be held. Fr. Hill will celebrate the service and the Rev. Peter Farmer, Day School headmaster, will preach.

Craig Olsen, Tennis Star, Killed in Crash

Craig Leonard Olsen, 21, of Pebble Beach, was killed in an auto crash near Castroville Friday morning.

He was returning from the University of California at Berkeley where he was a senior, majoring in anthropology, and on the varsity tennis team.

Born in Cleveland, Craig was the son of Dr. and Mrs. Leonard Olsen of 17-Mile Drive in Pebble Beach.

He was a 1965 graduate of Carmel High School where he established his reputation as a tennis player. In 1963, he and partner Peter Steafan won the CCAL Doubles Championship.

He is survived also by two brothers, Jan, a sophomore at Carmel High School, and Kent, of New York City.

Those wishing to honor his memory may contribute to the book fund of the Monterey Public Library.

OFF YONDER — "I see a lovely grove of trees, each one spaced precisely three feet apart, with a soft cushion of moss underfoot. This Canine Eden is for me. What a Picture!" The faraway look on Alfie's face (if you don't like that name, it's changeable. Alfie really doesn't mind) will grab your heart-strings at the SPCA Shelter on the Salinas - Monterey Highway.

Coast Guard Will Automate Pt. Sur

The Coast Guard is currently modernizing the aids to navigation at many of its lighthouses throughout the country as a step towards automation. After these stations are automated, the present operating personnel will be transferred to other duties within the Coast Guard.

The first stations to be automated are primarily the remote ones such as those at the Farallons, Point Reyes and Point Sur. At these points there are no residents within several miles from the station, which will permit continuous operation of the for signals after automation.

Automation of stations nearer to the populated areas such as Pigeon Point, Point Montara and Point Cabrillo will not be accomplished until a reliable fog detector has been approved.

Rabid Bat Found, County Total Six

Another rabid bat has been found in Monterey County, bringing the 1968 total of rabid animals to six for this year. Five of these were bats, the other was a skunk.

All of these animals tested positive for rabies by laboratory examination. The latest bat had been carried into a home by the family cat. Such proximity of diseased animals to humans brings up an important point.

Any wild animal which comes close to people or buildings during the daylight hours should not be handled, petted or fed. Such abnormal behavior in an animal that usually fears man is a stage often seen in rabies.

Risking a bite from this diseased creature is another form of Russian Roulette.

Dr. Richard S. Fraser, Health Officer for Monterey County said, "We have ample proof that rabies is present in our wildlife. Our protection lies in knowing the precautions to be taken, vaccinating our dogs, and reporting strange acting animals to the Health Department."

Sunset Notes

by Dr. James E. Gilman

The Carmel Youth Center will present its annual Christmas Capers tomorrow evening, Dec. 20, at 8 p.m. at the Sunset Theater, Carmel Cultural Center, San Carlos and 8th, Carmel.

A repeat performance will be given on Saturday, Dec. 21 at 8 p.m. Admission is free.

Christmas Capers is the Center's way of saying "Thank You" and Merry Christmas to the citizens of Carmel for their help and generosity over the past year.

Conciertos en Carmel
The Hidden Valley Music Seminars will sponsor two different Conciertos en Carmel at the Sunset Theater on Saturday and Sunday, Dec. 28 and 29, at 8:30 p.m. Featured guest artists are Stanley Plummer, violin; Thomas Paul, bass; Marie Gibson, soprano, and the Romero Family, guitarists.

Both concerts are benefits for the Hidden Valley Music Seminars, an organization that works with talented high school and college music students from across the country. Students are coming from all parts of the United States to take part in the two concerts.

The first evening will feature the four members of the famous Romero family of Spain in a program of classical guitar. The Romeros have played with many major symphonies in the United States and have been called the Royal Family of the Spanish guitar.

The first half of the program on Saturday will be a recital by the Romeros. This will be followed by Vivaldi's Double Concerto for Guitars and Orchestra, and the Concerto de Aranjuez by Rodrigo played by the orchestra composed of Hidden Valley students.

The second concert on Sunday, Dec. 29, will begin with Bach's Wachtel Auf (Sleepers Wake) with Plummer, Paul, Gibson and the Hidden Valley Concert Chorus. It will continue with a recital by Thomas Paul, bass soloist, to be followed by Beethoven's Egmont Overture.

The second half of the program will open with music from the Spanish Renaissance by the Concert Chorus. A violin recital by Stanley Plummer will follow. The concert will end with Beethoven's Choral Fantasy featuring all the soloists and Dr. Michael Zearott, pianist.

The Chorus conductor will be John Waddell, conductor of the Pasadena Symphony Chorus. Instrumental conductor will be Dr. Michael Zearott, assistant conductor of the Atlanta Symphony.

Tickets are available from the Hidden Valley Music Seminars located on the grounds of the Robert Louis Stevenson School in Pebble Beach, 624-6737, and the Central Box Office, Carmel, 624-6739.

For information regarding the next Hidden Valley Music Seminar to be held in the summer of 1969, please call Mr. Peter Meckel, 624-6737 or 624-2203.

CDCEC DOLLS—Part of 106 dolls collected for needy children of the Monterey County Hospital by civilian employees of Ft. Ord's Combat Developments Command Experimentation Command, are examined by, from left, Mrs. Michael McGrath of Salinas, Mrs. Rosemary Fickas of Seaside and Mrs. Gloria Brinsmead of Carmel. The dolls were brought to the employees semi annual luncheon and placed on a long table that was soon overflowing. Some of the women purchased dolls, some made their own, and some renewed older dolls, bringing to them a new beauty with fresh outfits and hairdos. But underprivileged girls of the children's clinic of the hospital will have a happier Christmas because of their efforts.

Plan Now If You Want To Call Loved Ones in Vietnam, Phone Company Says

Families who have relatives stationed in Vietnam are advised by Pacific Telephone to plan ahead if they wish to talk with them during the holiday season.

The telephone company also announced that a lower calling rate to Vietnam went into effect December 1 in time for Christmas season calls.

The station rate for the first three minutes is $9. Each additional minute will be $3. Person-to-person rates will remain the same at $12 for the first three minutes. But each additional minute has been lowered from $4 to $3.

In most instances it is easier for the serviceman to call home than for his family to try reaching him in Vietnam.

Servicemen should notify their families in advance if they expect to telephone home, particularly during the holidays.

More than 38,000 calls were completed between the U.S. and Vietnam last year, four and a half as many as in 1965. But most of the calls were completed from the Vietnam end, rather than from the U.S., because of the difficulty of locating servicemen when calls come in from the States.

When a call is received in Saigon every effort is made to locate the serviceman. However, travel restrictions and curfews imposed in Saigon have complicated the task of locating servicemen.

For this reason when a call is made to Vietnam it is important for the caller to have the serviceman's unit, his APO number and, if possible a telephone number where he can be reached.

Candy - Automatic Sweet Tooth Filler

Candy, the one food that will automatically heal a sweet tooth, has a history as chuck full of problems as a box of chocolate fillings.

The story began thousands of years ago in ancient Egypt when parents gave good children a honey-based confection made with nuts, figs, and spices.

Oriental, however, came up with another sweet thought — assorted fruits preserved in a honey solution.

In the Middle Ages a confection, concocted from sugar, rose water, and "gum dragon," was administered only to those who were ill, and the medicine was mixed in with the sweetness.

Later, Europeans preferred a more elaborate recipe which is still popular today. It was marzipan, prepared then as now — by pounding almonds and pistachios into a paste and blending this with sugar and egg white.

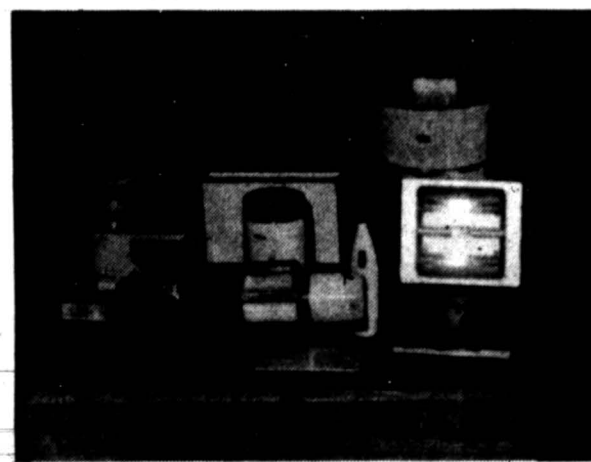

Historians do not bother to mention whether "sugar-plums" were actually made with genuine plums, but we do know they were enjoyed in England in the 17th century. The English were also responsible for the birth of candymaking as an industry.

The occasion was the famous 1851 exhibition, when manufacturers of other countries came, saw, tasted and duplicated the candies.

Americans, of course, got into the act. By the middle of the 19th century 380 well established small factories were offering a variety of lozenges, stick candy and jubilee paste. The last is obsolete today, but two new confections took its place — the lollipop and chewing gum.

In the United States today about 80 ingredients go into the various confections made and each year this requires over 1.5 billion pounds of sugar, one billion pounds of corn syrup, one half million pounds of cocoa and chocolate products — and 200 million pounds of peanuts.

'Christmas Tree Trimming' Buffet Supper
On this auspicious occasion, the house is dressed for Christmas and has never looked prettier.
Wreaths, pine cones, garlands, mistletoe, the brightly wrapped gifts ready to place under the tree.
But first the tree must be trimmed! This can be a happy neighborhood affair, especially if it's followed by a holiday buffet supper.
The buffet table will be as colorful as the Christmas tree, with a bright red or green (plastic or paper) cover and contrasting napkins. The center of attraction will be the punch bowl, ringed with greens or a wreath. At one end, present the hors d'oeuvres and main dishes.
Save the opposite end for a display of gingerbread men, lined up on a foil-covered cutting board.

Christmas Mushroom Puffs
Two pkgs. refrigerator crescent rolls; 1 egg yolk; 2 T. cold water; ½ lb. fresh mushrooms, finely chopped; ¼ cup, each, butter and minced green onion; 1½ T. flour; ½ t. seasoned salt; dash cayenne; ½ cup light cream; 1 T. minced parsley; pimiento. Makes 24 canapes.

This buffet looks just like Christmastime with its use of red-green foods and surprise combination of flavors. The tree decorating should take place first, so put on records of Christmas carols to get into the holiday spirit, aided by the sparkling punch and hors d'oeuvres.

Hollyberry Punch
One can (6 oz.) quick-frozen condensed lemonade; 1 can (6 oz.) quick-frozen concentrated orange juice; 5 cups water; 2/3 cup grenadine syrup; 1 qt. gingerale. Makes about 3 qts.
Combine juices, water and grenadine. Mix well. Add gingerale. Pour over ice in punch bowl. Float slices of lemon and/or orange for garnish.

Golden Champagne Punch
One (6 oz.) can frozen orange juice concentrate; 1 cup fresh lemon juice; 1 (No. 2) can unsweetened pineapple juice; sugar to taste; 1 (4/5 qt.) bottle California sauterne, 2 (4/5 qt. each) bottles California champagne.
Mix fruit juices and sugar; stir to dissolve sugar. Cover and chill in refrigerator several hours. Just before serving, pour mixture over block of ice in punch bowl. Add chilled wines. Serve at once. Garnish with green and red cherries or strawberries. Makes 3½ qts.

Caviar-Cheese Canapes
Half tsp. sweet basil; 1 cup water; 1 pkg. lemon-flavored gelatin; ½ t. salt; 1 T. lemon juice; 1 cup sauterne wine; 24 slices small party rye bread; ¼ cup softened butter; 1 pkg. (6 oz.) cream cheese, whipped; 1 jar (4 oz.) red caviar; minced green onion.
Simmer basil in water 3 minutes. Strain. Dissolve gelatin in the hot liquid. Add lemon juice and wine. Chill until slightly thickened. Put rye bread out on pretty tray. Spread slices with butter and whipped cream cheese. Cover with caviar.

Spoon slightly thickened gelatin mixture over canapes, allowing about 2 T. mixture for each. Chill until firm. If necessary, cover each canape with more gelatin mixture and chill again. Decorate canapes with minced green onion. Keep refrigerated until serving. Makes 24 canapes.

Christmas Mushroom Puffs
Two pkgs. refrigerator crescent rolls; 1 egg yolk; 2 T. cold water; ½ lb. fresh mushrooms, finely chopped; ¼ cup, each, butter and minced green onion; 1½ T. flour; ½ t. seasoned salt; dash cayenne; ½ cup light cream; 1 T. minced parsley; pimiento. Makes 24 dozen.

To make the shells, unroll crescent dough and cut into rounds with 1-inch cutter. Cut the centers out of half of these using ½ inch bottle cap, and put rings aside. Beat egg yolk and water until blended; brush over rounds. Top with rings, brushing them with egg-water mixture. Place on lightly greased baking sheets and bake in 375° F. oven 10 minutes. Cool on wire racks.
Filling: Sauté mushrooms and onion in butter until soft. Combine flour and seasonings and sprinkle over mushrooms, stirring. Cook 2 minutes; add cream and cook until thick, stirring constantly. Cool. Stir in parsley. Spoon into shells; top with strip or star of pimiento. Bake in 375° F. preheated oven 10 minutes.

Artichoke Cups With Salad
Eight artichokes, cooked and chilled; 1 cup diced cucumber; 2 cups cooked peas; 1 cup grated raw carrot; 1 cup diced raw celery; 2 tps. grated green onion; 1 cup mayonnaise; salt and paprika to taste; lemon juice. Serves 8.

Remove artichoke "chokes." Combine rest of items. Fill artichoke cups with this salad; arrange on bed of water-cress and serve on dinner-sized plates with small forks. Have extra lemon-mayonnaise for dipping artichoke leaves into same. Serve sliced ham and hot buttered rolls on same plate as artichoke cups.

Cherry Flambe Sundae
One and a half (12 oz.) maple syrup; 1 can (1 lb. 14 oz.) pitted Bing cherries with juice; 1 T. butter; ½ t. each cinnamon and nutmeg; 1 qt. vanilla ice cream; 8 sugar cubes; 1 T. orange extract. Serves 8.

Combine syrup, cherries with juice, butter, spices in a large skillet. Simmer 8 minutes. Remove cherries and put into individual dishes. Continue simmering sauce 8 minutes or until thickened and glossy. Divide ice cream over the cherries; add cherry sauce. At serving, dip sugar in extract and place on top of each dessert. Light cubes and serve at once.

'Establishment' Versus 'Have Nots' Theme of New Play At Circle

A unique and challenging musical play, David Merrick's Broadway success, "Roar of the Greasepaint — Smell of the Crowd" is scheduled to open in Carmel's Circle Theatre (Community Theatre of Monterey Peninsula) on Saturday evening, Dec. 28.

The usual week-end performances will be extended through Monday evening, Dec. 30 and climax with a gala performance on New Year's Eve.

The book, lyrics and music were written by Leslie Briscusse and Anthony Newley, a team who have succeeded in merging the universally arresting problem of 'those who have' versus 'those who have not' with irrepressibly gay and haunting music.

Director of the production, Mrs. Allen Weinfeld, brings years of expertise and experience to her task. A graduate of Staley College, Zelma Weinfeld gained early popularity on the air waves with her own program, "Coffee with Zelma" and, in West Virginia, as director of "Curtain Callers".

Coming to Carmel eight years ago with her husband, Lt. Col. Alan Weinfeld and their two daughters, Mrs. Weinfeld was named honorary vice president of the American Recreation Society.

She quickly turned her interest to the production of shows at Fort Ord and has directed nine musicals on the post, the most recent, "Bells Are Ringing." An actress as well as a television personality and director, Mrs. Weinfeld has appeared in widely various roles on the Circle stage.

The peninsula's outstanding choreographer, Dale Lefler is responsible for the creation of the dancing and miming of the plays 16 musical numbers. Of the 20 youthful dancers who will be seen on stage many are students in Lefler's school of dancing, the Showcase.

William Lewis, the Circle Theatre's most versatile personality, actor and lighting expert, will be responsible for the atmospheric effects, essential to the success of the forthcoming production.

Movie Review

In the Heat of the Night—This winner of five Academy Awards is a tight, dramatic and emotional study in bigotry. Sidney Poitier and Rod Steiger turn in the finest performances of their careers.

The Pink Jungle—James Garner is smoothly sophisticated as the glamor photographer who goes to the wilds of the South American jungle on assignment. Nasty villains fight Garner for a lost diamond mine.

Guns of San Sebastian—Mexico, 1750. Anthony Quinn as a soldier-rebel. Sam Jaffe as an ancient priest. Charles Bronson as a man who opposes Christianity. Filmed in breathtaking color in Mexico.

Planet of the Apes—Science-fiction tale about some U.S. spacemen who get stranded on a strange planet and are considered animals by the ape inhabitants. Drama and satire in equal doses.

Elvira Madigan—A film with a truly lyric spirit. Exquisitely photographed with a quaint air of another time, the story is based on the tragedy of a young man who deserts the army and his family for a tight-rope walker.

2001: A Space Odyssey—Far reaches of space explored in this splendid, highly imaginative science-fiction production. Keir Dullea, Gary Lockwood. Wonderful entertainment.

Doctor Dolittle—Rex Harrison is Hugh Lofting's delightful little doctor who learns to converse with the animals. Amusing comedy, delightful score, all-around great picture.

Theatre Guide

Guys and Dolls—Damon Runyon's Broadway smash concerning a floating crap game, a Salvation Army lassie and lots of guys and their dolls. Runyonese became a part of the American scene with the success of this musical.

The Lion in Winter—Curtain coming down on this comedy-drama of regal intrigue in the 12th century. Run ends next weekend to make way for "Smell of Greasepaint, Roar of the Crowd."

'Guys And Dolls' Boasts Veteran Local Actors

Nearly the entire cast of "Guys and Dolls," opening Friday at the Studio Theatre-Restaurant in Carmel, has been featured in previous musical comedies there.

Eliane Yates (Sarah) was succeeded by Luann Brown (Adelaide) as the heroine of "A Funny Thing Happened On The Way To The Forum" and both were in "The Boy Friend" last summer.

The two male leads of "Guys And Dolls" were in "Carnival," Hal Lockwood (Sky Masterson) as Marco The Magnificent and Saxon Rawlings (Nathan Detroit) as a roustabout.

Dick Vreeland (Nicely-Nicely) brings to the Stubby Kaye role long experience as comic leads in such shows as "Send Me No Flowers" and played Fagin in the Forest Theatre production of "Oliver."

J. C. Hale (Arvide), well known for his many roles at the Postgraduate School Little Theater, played Lord Brockhurst in "The Boy Friend." Dorothy Hale (Gen. Matilda B. Cartwright) makes her Studio debut as the stern taskmaster of the Save-A-Soul Mission.

Ed Shinbrot (Big Jule) was the circus owner in "Carnival," following appearances as both Lycus and Pseudolus in "A Funny Thing."

John Soprano (Benny Southstreet) was the irresistible Hines in "The Pajama Game."

Gary Tao (Harry The Horse) played in "Carnival," while Dennis Weaves (Angie The Ox) and Mike Williams (Lt. Brannigan) are new to the Studio.

Jean Rawlings (Agatha) was sound technician for "Carnival." Of the four Hot Box Dolls, Jeannie Hughes was the Incomparable Rosalie in "Carnival," Janie Tucker was in "The Boy Friend" and Debby Berry and Carol Green are newcomers.

"Guys And Dolls," under the direction of Dave Kirk, will play Friday, Saturday and Sunday nights at the Studio through January, as well as the entire week between Christmas and New Year's Eve. Reservations may be made at 624-1661 or 624-2321.

The 19th annual edition of the Carmel Youth Center Christmas Capers begins a two-day run at the Sunset Center on Friday, Dec. 20 at 7:30 p.m.

By presenting these annual capers, the Youth Center members and the Center's adult board thank the people of Carmel for their support during the past year.

Thus, the admission is free.

As he has for 19 years, Jack Belangee has set up the sound systems for the production, as well as supplying amplification throughout the year for all Youth Center activities.

Mrs. Betty Martin has assisted with the dance routines, the Carmel Lion's Club will furnish the candy and balloons for Santa Claus, (Tor Ho-Ho-Ho) Spindler, a snarling line coach at MPC at other times of the year.

George T. C. Smith, assisted by Larry Little, supplied photographic support for publicity.

Capers co-directors are Youth Center members Sue McCurdy and Nancy Van Bibber, assisted by Berit Keeble. Lighting by Rudy Lamar and stage management by Tim Connel.

The entertainment offers a variety that rivals the old Palace Theater in its heyday, and include such headliners as:

On Friday, The Goff Sister, Janet and Maureen.

On Saturday, The Bartoli Brothers, Marty and Bart.

Appearing both nights:

The Marty Artellan Accordioneers.

Lisa Le Blanc, 11-year-old acrobatic performer trained by Colleen Cabral, a former Youth Capers participant who now performs professionally for the circus.

Susie Snowflake — The talented male dancer of the Youth Center: Tom Millot, Curt Roger, Mike Dress, Tor Spindler, Rusty Vandervort, Greg Stapleton, Randy Silno, Dave Baga, Chris Laiola, Gary Kelly and Mitch Kastros.

Rudolph the Red Nose Reindeer — Linda Bordon, Liso Tourangeale, Chris Lucido, Jane Beisel, Nori Jensen, Rita Capelli, Diane Lompe, Ruth Willis, Leslie Campbell.

HOUSE OF CARDS — Spencer's House of Cards on Ocean Ave., won a $25 prize for this outstanding window display of Christmas decorations and gift ideas. The Carmel Business Association judges considered originality, beauty and elegance in awarding prizes.

NOT FOR SALE — These heirloom dolls and doll furniture are from the private collection of Mrs. Helene Clarabut, and are on display in the windows of Heritage Antiques in Su Vecino Court. The display was awarded a $25 prize by CBA.

Who's New

Most Carmelites now know about Carmel Drug Store's new owners, but probably not —

That David Banks and Frank Quatraro were fraternity brothers at University of the Pacific at the same time that their respective wives were roommates, and that initial dealings for purchase of the store began with one of the wives on a tram ride.

Wendy Banks, president of

by Irene Miller

In order to escape the Christmas rush and skiing crowds Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Drummond of Pebble Beach are skiing this week at Incline Village.

Mr. and Mrs. William K. Stewart and children Lee, Thad, and Kirk of Carmel Highlands will spend Christmas day driving to South Lake Tahoe. Their house guests will be Dr. and Mrs. James D. Niebel and sons Alan and Stuart and Scot Dewar. They plan to spend the week skiing Heavenly Valley.

Mr. and Mrs. James S. Neil of Carmel and daughters Ann, a student at University of California, Mary Beth and Celia, students at Santa Catalina will be skiing Heavenly Valley after Christmas.

Dr. and Mrs. Jack Stein and children Martha and Jack will spend New Years week in their new home at Agate Bay, Lake Tahoe. They will ski a different resort every day. Alpine Meadows, Incline Village, Squaw and Heavenly Valley.

Count and Countess Bertrand D' Avenas of Pebble Beach and children Michel, Pierre, Camille and Anne and their guests Kim Spindler and Chris Connolly of Carmel will be staying at the new Club Mediterranean and skiing Bear Mountain.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward T. Brown, dean of boys of Robert Louis Stevenson School and family will move on Dec. 21 into their new home in the Tyrolean village of Incline Village, Nevada. Soon as they are settled out on the slopes they will be.

Mr. and Mrs. G. Warren Knapp and daughter Candy, a student at University of Hawaii, who is home for the holidays, will fly their own plane to South Lake Tahoe, Dec. 26 and ski Heavenly Valley.

the Pharmacists Association Auxiliary last spring, attended a convention at the Sahara Tahoe primarily because her husband could not.

Seated next to her on a scenic tram ride was Virginia Burks, then owner of the Ocean Avenue pharmacy, who casually asked, "Know anyone who wants to buy a drug store?"

Wendy immediately phoned Dave who "had always wanted to live near the ocean." He told Frank — who hadn't — but, said his wife, Mio, "wouldn't have considered any coastal area except Carmel."

Now settled on Hatton Lane, Wendy, still active in the Auxiliary and the American Association of University Women, also finds time to serve as room mother for Rebecca's Woods School kindergarten. The other Banks daughters are Jennifer, 3½, and Emily, 15 months, still young for their father's enthusiasm, sports of all kinds.

Mio Quatraro, formerly a social worker, is presently "trying to write, but so far I just have rejection slips." Frank, she said, "lives, breathes and eats hunting, gets up at 2:30 in the morning to go to the Fresno area, our former home."

The other members of the Quatraro household in South Carmel Hills are Amy, 3½, and Tony, two.

About their new home town, Mio said, "We are somewhat overwhelmed at the number of cultural activities. We weren't exposed to much of this in the Valley where all of us lived. The '39 Craftsmen' exhibit was fantastic."

Haerle Sparkles In Jazz Trio at MPC

Pianist Dan Haerle, Monterey Peninsula College music faculty member, drew shouts of enthusiasm from his Music Hall audience recently.

He was joined by the corduroy-fingered bass player, John Smith from the Stan Kenton orchestra and drummer Jim LePine of the Ace Hill Trio.

Haerle not only demonstrated his proficiency at the piano but his originality as well in all the arrangements. Three of his own compositions were included.

Smith, who had had only two rehearsals with the group, really gave himself to the evening, amazing everyone with his dexterous work on the long strings.

All the numbers had an air of improvisation as they took off into the realm of progressive jazz. Always the beat seemed to be under the complete control of Haerle at the piano, rather than with the drummer.

There were some great crescendo build-ups and some effective pieces in a quieter vein such as Haerle's own "Reflections."

Most exciting was the last number on the program entitled "Milestones," based on a piece by Miles Davis. Rich harmonic effects were interwoven by strong rhythm.

The trio compared favorably with the recently heard Denny Zeitlin Trio which also boasts a virtuoso pianist-composer at its helm.

About 82 million persons in this country drink fluoridated water.

Choral Society In 'Creation' Is Outstanding

By Margot Hyatt

Carmel and the Peninsula were given an exquisite Christmas gift in the form of Haydn's great hymn of praise, "The Creation," last weekend.

Sung by the Monterey Peninsula Choral Society, it was directed by Haymo Taeuber, its new leader, who also directed the Monterey County Chamber Orchestra which accompanied it.

Both Saturday and Sunday evenings the Carmel Mission Basilica was packed with families and many young people.

They stood at the end in prolonged applause in appreciation of the efforts of the soloists, the Choral Society in its new blue robes, the director and the orchestra.

Guest artist Norma Jean Hodges, well known local resident, was never in better voice. The surety of her lyric soprano added extra dimension to the beautiful words. She sang the parts of Gabriel and Eve.

The impeccable phrasing of James Schwabacher, leading oratorio tenor in the United States and Bach Festival veteran, lent authority to the performance in the part of Uriel, one of the archangels. His voice seemed to have a fresher, more vibrant quality than when last heard.

The voice of bass singer James Tippey, who took the parts of Raphael and Adam, was warm and rich—rather surprising in one so young.

All three were well matched in volume and tonal blend. They seemed to grace and highlight the fugal themes of the chorus and the underlying beauty of the chamber orchestra.

Especially lovely was Miss Hodges' duet with the flute, played by Ray Fabrizio, in HIDDEN VALLEY CHORALE . . . under conductor John Waddell, performing Haydn's "Missa Solennis" at the final concert of the 1968 seminars. The Chorale, with bass singer Thomas Paul and soprano Marie Gibson, Bach Festival artists, will sing Beethoven's "Choral Fantasy" at Sunset Auditorium, Dec. 29, accompanied by the Hidden Valley alumni orchestra under conductor Michael Zearott of the Atlanta Symphony. Along with violinist Stanley Plummer, the entire musical cast will perform the "Egmont Overture." Seats may be reserved at the Central Box Office or from Hidden Valley, Box 942, Pebble Beach.

Romeros in Concert At Sunset

The classical and flamenco guitar performances of the Romero family have earned them the title of the "Royal Family of the Spanish Guitar."

Peninsula audiences will have an opportunity to hear them perform at the Sunset Auditorium on Dec. 28.

Headlining a two-evening program, given for the benefit of the Hidden Valley Music Seminars, Angel Romero and his three sons will play the "Concierto de Aranjuez" of Rodrigo, and Vivaldi's Double Guitar Concerto.

The Sunday night concert Dec. 29 will feature violinist Stanley Plummer, who will include the Ravel work "Tzigane" in his recital. This outstanding musician has performed with the country's major symphony orchestras, and is currently on a recital tour of the United States.

He will be joined by vocalists Thomas Paul, bass, and Marie Gibson, soprano—Bach Festival artists—in Bach's "Wachet Auf."

The two soloists will lead the alumni chorale and orchestra of Hidden Valley in the Beethoven "Choral Fantasy," under conductor Dr. Michael Zearott of the Atlanta Symphony, and the entire musical cast will unite in a performance of the "Egmont Overture."

Seats may be reserved at the Central Box Office, or from Hidden Valley, Box 942, Pebble Beach.

WHAT'S DOING?

Meet Don Howard

Donald R. Howard

For those of you who do not know Don, we would like you to meet him. For the many people on the Peninsula who do know him, here's a chance to get to know him better. Don joined Pacific Telephone in 1956 as an Installer-Repairman and has worked at that position in every community on the Peninsula.

Don lives in Monterey with his wife and three children. He is very active in community affairs, being a leader in local Boy Scout activities and serving as a manager in the Little League.

Don has literally pumped life into the veins of many Peninsula residents through his frequent trips to the local blood bank to make a donation. Don points with pride to his membership in the exclusive "6 Gallon Club."

In recognition of Don's tremendous feeling of community responsibility and desire to help his fellow man, Don Howard has been singled out by his fellow employees to receive Pacific Telephone's Community Service Award for the Southern Division.

All of us at Pacific Telephone want to wish you and your family a very Merry Christmas and the best for the New Year ahead! We've enjoyed serving you in 1968, and we've tried to bring you the best possible service. Our resolution for 1969 is to continue working toward this goal.

Special Programs Will Be Offered By Presbyterians

Identical programs will be offered on Sunday, Dec. 22 at both the 9:30 and 11 a.m. services at the Carmel Presbyterian Church.

The minister, the Rev. Dr. George Hunter Hall, will use as his sermon theme "The Song of Christmas."

W. James Farlinger, organist, will play for his prelude "What Child Is This" by Purvis, for the offertory "Blessed Jesus, We Are Here" by Walther, and for the postlude "Unto Us A Child Is Born" by Dandrin.

The Westminster Chimes Bell Choir under the direction of Mrs. W. James Farlinger will accompany the organist on the prelude, and will also accompany the Chancel Choir on the Introit—"Fanfare for Christmas Day" by Shaw. The Choir, also under Mrs. Farlinger's direction, will sing "The Shepherds and the Inn," a Mexican carol, as well as "Sing Gloria!" by Davis.

A nursery for the care of infants and small children is provided.

On this particular Sunday all Church School classes and children above the age of three will accompany their parents to the Christmas Family Worship service.

The traditional Christmas Eve Candlelight Service will be held at 11 p.m. at the Carmel Presbyterian Church. At this service the congregation joins in the singing of carols by candlelight. Preceding the 11 o'clock service, the Westminster Chimes Bell Choir will play carols in the patio around the lighted Christmas tree.

Rev. Dr. George Hunter Hall will give a brief inspirational message on "A Mod-

Cabrillo Festival Names New Director

The Cabrillo Music Guild directors have appointed Richard Williams as musical director and conductor of the 1969 Cabrillo Music Festival.

Williams' selection followed three months of exploring alternatives for the festival's seventh season at Aptos.

Gerhard Samuel, festival conductor since 1963, submitted his resignation recently. The 29-year-old Williams will bring Santa Clara University's resident chamber orchestra, the Amici della Musica, to the Cabrillo College theater as the performing ensemble. This year the 37-member orchestra became the West Coast's first full-time professional chamber symphony, joining the San Francisco Symphony and Los Angeles Philharmonic as one of three California professional orchestras.

Williams organized the Amici della Musica at Santa Clara University in 1965. The young conductor, a native of Compton, attended Compton College, Long Beach State College, Brigham Young University and Indiana University. He received an M.A. at Brigham Young and has completed a year's work on a doctorate at Indiana.

Appearance of the Amici della Musica at the August 15-24 Cabrillo Festival will mark the first time an existing professional orchestra has performed at Aptos. In the past a festival orchestra has been recruited for the event.

Williams, his wife Linda, and their three children live in San Jose. Mrs. Williams is a composer and author of children's stories.

His training was in Budapest, Munich, Italy and Paris. He came to New York at the time of the Communist takeover and later moved to Southern California where he married Alice de Soos in Santa Barbara. They spent a year in Carmel during the mid-'40's and returned later to make it their permanent home. Mr. Erbit leaves a daughter, Mrs. Nancy Erbit Manning of Stratford, England, and three grandchildren.

On Tuesday, Dec. 24, Confessions will be heard from 10 a.m. until noon, 3:30 to 5:30 p.m., and from 7:30 to 9 p.m. A special Christmas Eve Midnight High Mass will be held in the Basilica, with the doors opening at 11:30 p.m. Christmas Day, Masses will be said hourly beginning at 6 a.m. and continuing until 11 a.m., and again at 12:15. There will be no evening Mass on Christmas Day.

Check Children's Toys For Safety

Parents can be Santa's helpers this Christmas.

Santa Claus knows a toy suitable for a 10-year-old boy may be potentially dangerous for a four-year-old child, and on Christmas Eve he tries to deliver toys accordingly.

Dr. Albert H. Domm, child safety spokesman for the western home office of the Prudential Insurance Company, suggests parents help Santa in delivering safe Christmas toys by keeping in mind the following shopper's checklist:

1. Does the toy have chemicals that may explode or poison?

2. Is the toy inflammable?

3. Is the finish on the toy labeled "antitoxic"?

4. Does the toy use electricity, batteries or flame which may shock, ignite or burn?

5. Does the toy have sharp or jagged edges that could cut and injure?

6. Does the toy have removable parts that might be swallowed and cause strangulation?

7. Is the toy too heavy for a child to lift without injuring himself?

8. Can the toy be used safely without adult supervision.

Special Christmas Observances

A special children's service on Sunday morning at 10 o'clock will be held at St. Philip's Lutheran Church, on Carmel Valley Road at Schulte. The children will decorate a large Christmas tree with "Chrismsons," Christian symbols made by ladies of the church, and explain what they mean.

A candlelight and carol service centered around the 150th anniversary of "Silent Night" with guitar accompaniment will be held at 8 p.m. on Christmas Eve at the church.

A service will be held on Christmas Day at 11 a.m.

Christian Science Bible Lesson

"Thine, O Lord, is the greatness, and the power, and the glory, and the victory, and the majesty: for all that is in the heaven and in the earth is thine; thine is the kingdom, O Lord, and thou art exalted as head above all."

These words from the first book of Chronicles are part of the Bible Lesson-Sermon titled "Is the Universe, Including Man, Evolved by Atomic Force?" to be read in all Christian Science churches this Sunday.

The following passage is from those to be read from the denominational textbook: "In the material world, thought has brought to light with great rapidity many useful wonders. With like activity have thought's swift pinions been rising towards the realm of the real, to the spiritual cause of those lower things which give impulse to inquiry. Belief in a material basis, from which may be deduced all rationality, is slowly yielding to the idea of a metaphysical basis, looking away from matter to Mind as the cause of every effect." (Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures by Mary Baker Eddy).

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE RADIO PROGRAM

The program titled "Is Christmas Relevant?" is part of the regular Christian Science radio series "The Bible Speaks to You." It will be broadcast over stations KGO at 7:15, KRML at 7:45 and KDON at 8:45. This program brings out that even in the midst of violence and protest in the world today the Christmas spirit still is here for the seeking heart loving his neighbor.

An ad in the Pine Cone has a 7-times-better chance to be read than an ad in a daily newspaper.

Masters Concert

The following major works will be featured on the Masters Concert during the week of Dec. 20 over K-WAVE Stereo (96.9 mc) at 8 p.m.

Thurs., Dec. 20—Dvorak, Symphony No. 4; Brahms, Horn Trio, Opus 40.

Fri., Dec. 21—Stravinsky, Symphony in C; Beethoven, Quartet No. 1, Opus 18.

Mon., Dec. 22—Respighi, Feste Romane; Beethoven "Emperor" Piano Concerto.

Tues., Dec. 23—Stravinsky, Orpheus—Symphony in 3 Movements; Mahler, Symphony No. 6 in A Minor.

Wed., Dec. 24—Mozart, Requiem; Handel, Messiah.

Special Christmas Observances

A special children's service on Sunday morning at 10 o'clock will be held at St. Philip's Lutheran Church, on Carmel Valley Road at Schulte. The children will decorate a large Christmas tree with "Chrismsons," Christian symbols made by ladies of the church, and explain what they mean.

A candlelight and carol service centered around the 150th anniversary of "Silent Night" with guitar accompaniment will be held at 8 p.m. on Christmas Eve at the church.

A service will be held on Christmas Day at 11 a.m.

Students At MPC Collect For Needy

Monterey Peninsula College's Black Student Union, which conducted a "highly successful" Thanksgiving aid-to-needy-families drive, is now collecting food, clothing, money and new or used toys for distribution at Christmas.

Contributions will be accepted in Room B-8 at MPC until December 20, according to Betty Nichlos, drive chairman.

BSU member Georgetta Winston, who was active in the Thanksgiving drive, reports that food and funds were collected for five families whose names were supplied by the Legal Aid Society. Turkeys were donated by Monte Mart and Safeway stores; Mac's Market, Monterey, donated fruit; and $50 was contributed by faculty, administration, students "and one nice man from Carmel Valley."

UCSC Enrollment

The University of California, Santa Cruz, is currently more than 13 per cent over planned capacity and is unable to accept new students for the winter quarter, according to Howard Shontz, assistant chancellor-Student services and registrar.

Librarian's Notebook

By Ruth Galvin Thornburg, City Librarian

No one should let this Christmas season pass without coming into the library to look long at the Edyth Plamondon tableau which is now on display in the main reading room.

This year we show the Nativity in its delicate and beautiful sensitivity. The tiny hands, the expressive faces, the authentic clothing, the beautiful birds and animals, all combine to make viewing the tableau a most rewarding experience.

Aesthetic pleasure may also be derived by looking at and studying a new book called Japanese Houses. It was written by Kiyoyuka Nishihara who also did some of the many photographs which illustrate the book.

The author analyzes the Japanese house so that his readers understand not only the material structure but also the human needs which are behind the structure. This is important for an explanation of why the Japanese house is as it is.

Incidentally, these houses are put together without nails or adhesives of any kind. Detail pictures of beams and such look-alike intricate puzzles carefully worked together. Beautiful workmanship.

More beautiful workmanship is shown in the book Ornamental Metalwork by Franco Magnani. This is metalwork as it is used in artistic gates, railings and stairways.

It is not the so-called metal sculpture. The illustrations are photographs of metalwork in various European cities and are most attractive.

It is possible, and probable, that a book on anatomy may seem to you entirely uninteresting. But the fact is that The Body by Anthony Smith is an utterly fascinating book. Chapters vary from a couple of pages to a great many pages, seemingly dependent upon how much the author had to say on any particular phase of his subject, and all the time the reading is easy.

The author is a zoologist and he did three years of research in preparing to write this book. The index is good.

The Italian writer Cesare Pavese has had his books translated into English before this, but now we have a Selected Works of Cesare Pavese translated by R. W. Flint, which is a collection of his better things, and is very satisfying.

The book contains four of Pavese's novels, namely The Beach, The House on the Hill, Among Women Only, and The Devil in the Hills. Pavese is among Italy's foremost living writers and a good translation of his work has been long overdue.

Edwin Reischauer has a new book which is not about Vietnam in spite of the fact that the title is Beyond Vietnam. It is about what happens after our involvement in Vietnam has ceased. It is about Asia as a whole, including Japan and China. The author was born and raised in Tokyo and has spent a great deal of his life in Asia. His is a voice we should heed.

The Library Staff wishes you all a happy holiday season and a glorious New Year! !

Carmel-Point Sur Highway Repairs

The California Highway Commission has allocated funds for a project to renovate and extend highway culverts at 38 Route 1 locations in Monterey County.

All are located between a point 2.5 miles south of Point Sur Naval Facility and a mile south of Carmel.

The Commission action was based on the recommendations of James A. Moe, State Director of Public Works, and came during a business meeting held in Sacramento.

Moe said the existing metal culverts are located near the ocean and have suffered deterioration that can be repaired by lining them with a cement mortar.

Before the lining is placed in some culverts, however, they will be extended and end sections installed to improve adjacent slopes and drainage conditions.

Total cost is estimated by the California Division of Highways as $95,000.

OBITUARY

Mrs. Verna Chamberlain, 76, who came to Carmel last summer to be near her daughter, Mrs. Vernice Jensen, died recently. A descendant of pioneer Oakland settlers, Mrs. Chamberlain was active in music and art circles, church and senior citizens' activities there. She is also survived by her son, Marvin Chamberlain of Oakland, and a grandson. At her request, her body will be donated for research to the University of California Medical Center.

Free 'Dr. Dolittle' First Fund-Raiser For Boys' Club

Four hundred young boys will be treated free to the make-believe world of Dr. Dolittle Dec. 21 at the Steinbeck Theater on Cannery Row.

The free movie will serve as the introduction to the Monterey Peninsula of a new Boys' Club to serve boys from lower socio-economic families ranging in age from seven to 17.

Sponsors tickets for $10 each went on sale this week for the movie, which was nominated for the Academy Award this spring as the best picture of the year and stars Rex Harrison.

Tickets will be distributed to the boys through schools and churches.

The Boys' Club started organizing last summer under the leadership of D. Kirk Davidson, manager of Macy's in Del Monte Center, and the Rev. Allen A. Belton, director of the Neighborhood Youth Corps. Both had had longtime experience with boys' clubs, Davidson in Marin County and Belton as a boy in San Francisco.

They drew together some two dozen other men and formed a steering committee, which was chartered as a non-profit corporation this fall and affiliated with the national organization, Boys' Clubs of America.

Selling sponsorships for the Dr. Dolittle movie will be the first major fund-raising effort of the club, which hopes to become an agency of the Community Chest. Other fund-raising efforts include operation of a car wash.

The club is now negotiating for a temporary building. It will be located near the Seaside-Monterey boundary, with the idea that boys from all over the Peninsula will have access to the facility. The club will settle for a building with only club and game rooms to start but plans eventually for a full-blown facility with basketball courts and a swimming pool.

Selection of a director is the other first order of business before the club, and it is hoped one will be on the job soon after Jan. 1.

Club members emphasize that a major goal of the club is to integrate, not only racially, but socially and economically. All efforts will be made to create a healthy atmosphere of athletics, education and just plain recreation for boys that might not otherwise have access to a place of their own.

Davidson is president of the club, and Belton is vice president. Jack D. Bessire, dean of student personnel at Monterey Peninsula College, is secretary and D. R. Oetgard of Pacific Telephone is treasurer.

Youth Center Plea

Remodeling at the Carmel Youth Center has cost considerably more than was planned.

Inflation has hit the Youth Center too.

The young people are holding off their creditors until they can obtain income from their Binghamobiles during the Crosby Pro-Am Tournament in January.

In the meantime, donations would be greatly appreciated.

All contributions are tax deductible.

Their P.O. Box number is 2399.

CMA Joins In Two-Day School Health Workshop

California's more than eight million school children and college students are expected to be the benefactors when the California Medical Association joins with other groups and agencies to co-sponsor a Big Sur workshop on school health education.

CMA President Malcolm C. Todd, M.D., has announced that 12 physicians who are knowledgeable and interested in school health problems will represent CMA at the workshop Jan. 30-31 at a retreat in Big Sur. CMA is also helping finance the two-day workshop, Dr. Todd said.

Co-sponsors of the school health meetings include the California Association of School Administrators, the Inter-Agency Committee on School Health, the Department of Education of San Francisco State College, and the Society of Crippled Children and Adults.

Letter To Editor

Editor
Carmel Pine Cone
Colonel Austin De Camp's letter to the Editor on the Edgemere motel expansion, with his rather pathetic attempt at humor, so completely ignores the basic problems that it should have an answer.

This problem really is not humorous, but extremely serious, not for Edgemere alone but for the many other additions and expansions for other R1 motels which will follow, in clear violation of the wishes of Carmel voters as expressed in the April referendum election.

We who are over 30 are criticized by the younger generation as being a part of the "establishment" whose methods they do not like. Colonel De Camp evidently goes back "several times 30" to write thoughts so unconcerned for the citizens of Carmel and their wishes as expressed in April.

What are Colonel De Camp's special interests?

Ashton Stanley, who is not a Carmel citizen, whom he championed so vehemently, does have such an interest—his motel was one of those legalized. Possibly he may wish to add and to change his motel in the future. Incidentally, this was not a public meeting and Mr. Stanley spoke in contradiction of the rules.

Colonel De Camp makes an error when he says—"the neighbors quite approved." Neighbor Innkeeper Stanley did, but others who called to thank me for my "No" vote did not.

The good colonel also chooses to overlook the dedicated work of the Planning Commission who denied the Edgemere permit. Can they all be out of step with the colonel, or are they in step with the wishes of the Carmel citizens and the Carmel Citizens Committee when they conscientiously and seriously voted "no further expansion in area or use of motels in the R1 residential district"?

I can only say—"Let's Keep Carmel Carmel."

MEDAL TO PETTET

Army Major Joseph D. Pettet, son of Lt. Col. and Mrs. Joseph W. Pettet, 2888 Forest Lodge Road, Pebble Beach, Calif., receives the Army Commendation Medal during ceremonies November 20 in Stuttgart, Germany.

Major Pettet received the award for meritorious service during his last assignment at the U. S. Army Engineer District, Sondrestrom Air Base, Greenland, from February 1967 to February 1968. During this period he served as resident engineer for the Sondrestrom (Greenland) Residency and as assistant area engineer of the Thule (Greenland) Area.

Musical Kindergarten

Dorette's Music Kindergarten had its annual Christmas party in Mrs. Comings home in Hatton Fields.

The program included a puppet show, a parade through the house with rhythm instruments and a talent show in which pieces were played on chord organ, piano, organ, bells and recorder, followed by a German Folk Dance.

After refreshments, candles were lighted and carols were sung. Twenty youngsters were present.

figures modelled from clay made from flour, salt and water and later baked. (Recipe below)

Parents will gather in the library Friday morning, Dec. 22 at 10:30 to hear the children in a Christmas songfest led by Sharon Jones.

They will see the Christmas in Other Lands displays set up by the mothers.

The little German Christmas tree with candles was created by Mrs. Ed Lundblad; the Swedish Santa Lucia doll dressed by Mrs. Erven Torell; the Mexican Christmas is by Mrs. Jerry J. Campbell; the Spanish village scene provided by Mrs. Clark Rasche.

A tradition at the library, the three colorful Christmas scenes painted by Mrs. George Booth, have again been hung.

Mrs. Booth also designed a manger scene.

Israel is represented by an eight-candle menorah denoting the Hanukkah Festival of Lights; Ireland by leprechauns by Mrs. Saul Heffes. Carols around the world are by Mrs. John R. Batzler; a gingerbread house iced by Mrs. David W. Morse.

Mrs. Lachlan (Mel) Van Bibber, librarian, has made gumdrop and lollypop trees, which she will share later with the children.

Mrs. Malcolm Jones is the co-ordinator of the volunteer mothers who donate time every week to the library.

Clay Bake Recipe

Mix 4 cups flour, 1 cup salt, 1 1/2 cups water and knead by hand, until ball is firm. If more water is needed, sprinkle a few drops in. Do NOT double or halve recipe!

Make individual decorations or figures 1 hour at 350 degrees. Then decorate with tempora or water color.

Christmas Rites At Wayfarer

The Children's Choir of the Church of the Wayfarer will present a Christmas program in the sanctuary on Sunday afternoon, Dec. 22, at 4 p.m.

Mrs. Carl Welchner is the choir director, Mrs. Connell Carruth the organist, and Mrs. Florence Venn narrator.

The Sacrament of Holy Communion will be observed in the Little Chapel on Tuesday, Dec. 24 at 4 p.m.

On Christmas Eve at 7:30 a service of carols and candles will be held. The adult choir will sing and the congregation will sing carols.

As they leave the church they will carry their lighted candles home.

Invitation

The staff of the Harrison Memorial Library invites the public to enjoy Christmas refreshments on Monday, Dec. 23 from 2-4 p.m. Cookies and coffee will be served, providing the perfect opportunity to enjoy the Edyth Plamondon tableau displayed in the main reading room. Everyone is welcome.

Chess Champ

The Monterey County Chess Championship tournament which was held Dec. 7 and 8 at the Casa Alvarado Chess Center, and at the conclusion, A. Suhobek of Monterey was declared Monterey County champion.

Colonel Charles J. Daly (USA Ret) placed fourth, Charles Nystrom, ninth, Stanley MacCarty 11th and R. Atkinson finished 16th. All are residents of Carmel.

One Luxury Item for your Xmas Sock:
The Sea Cradle

We don't even want to hear from you if you buy your houses by the square foot or place no dollar value on intangibles like ocean views, beaches in your front yard, moon on the surf at night, or that elusive old "Carmel Charm". But if these things do have meaning for you, then you COULD be interested in the Sea Cradle and will be delighted to know that it is offered for sale for the first time on the public market. (Present owner bought it from its long-time owners after renting it summers for years). It's little, it's adorable behind its picket fence, its ceilings are vaulted and its roof is shake, cozy fireplace, and yes, it does have a big garage. It's a few steps from the beach and off that Scenic Drive "freeway", and its price is $55,000. Take a look and see if you can hang on to your heart.

Volunteers Help Depressed

"Unhappiness and seemingly hopeless difficulties of despondent persons are usually accentuated during the Yuletide season—but there is a ready answer," according to Mrs. Betty Corr, newly-appointed director of the Monterey County Suicide Prevention Center.

"These problems," Mrs. Corr stresses, "can be relieved by the sympathetic listening and counseling of the Center's trained staff."

When life no longer seems worth living and you can't make a decision, give the Center a chance to help.

All you have to do is dial 624-1415—at any time of day or night.

Tree Planting Day

On Saturday, Dec. 21, Carmel will again celebrate its annual tree planting day by giving away 3000 bare-root seedlings.

From 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. the parking lot of the Carmel Post Office will be staffed by the City Forester and Members of the Carmel Forestry Commission who will distribute on a first-come first-serve basis 2000 Monterey Pine seedlings and 1000 Sierrita Redwood seedlings.

Instruction sheets will be provided.

Followup on previous years' plantings indicate that the great majority of the trees planted by Monterey Peninsula citizens have thrived and are still growing.
